This page of musical notation consists of six systems of grand staves (treble and bass clef). The music is written in a key with two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a 3/4 time signature. The notation is dense and complex, featuring many beamed notes, slurs, and dynamic markings. The first system begins with a forte (ff) dynamic. The second system includes a fortissimo (ffz) marking. The third system features a fortissimo (ffz) marking and a triplet. The fourth system includes a fortissimo (ffz) marking and a triplet. The fifth system includes a fortissimo (ffz) marking and a triplet. The sixth system includes a fortissimo (ffz) marking and a triplet. The notation is written in a style that is characteristic of early 20th-century musical notation.

Quite an enviable distinction this dainty little waltz song, "Little Girl, You'll Do," has won for itself when press and public have declared it to be the greatest success in Edna May's production of the "School Girl." As interpreted by Mr. Andrews, the tenor of the company, it takes several encores at each performance, and occupies a unique position as the musical masterpiece of the production.
